

USGenWeb Education and Promotion Questionnaire

DRAFT 1

In an effort to provide additional programs and services for the genealogical community and USGenWeb members, we would like your opinion about the value of adding some new features to the USGenWeb national website. Your responses will be confidential.

This Day in History is a proposed service that would highlight historical events from across the United States. This service would draw from a database of events found on USGenWeb member sites and include a link to the site where this event is featured. This feature would be added to a new Education section of the National website and would be available by subscription to add to any USGenWeb member site.

Q1. On a scale of one 1 to 5, please rate how much you think This Day in History would be of benefit to researchers?

No Benefit at All 1	2	3	4	Extremely Beneficial 5
